Principal's Corner

Fall is definitely in the air now! It's hard to believe that the first two months of school are already behind us! Our classrooms continue to engage in a variety of learning activities to build skills across many areas.

This year, we are taking a trip "around the world" at our monthly assemblies to learn more about different cultures. At our end of October assembly, Room 6 took us on a journey to Japan, sharing beautiful artwork, amazing facts and hands on materials such as origami. It was evident that the students spent time and effort researching their topics and practicing their public speaking. Well done, Room 6!

Our staff is looking forward to welcoming parents to our Parent Teacher Conferences on November 19th (evening) and November 20th (morning). Information will be shared shortly about how you can book your appointment time This a great opportunity for you and your child to meet with the classroom teacher to discuss their learning and any questions you might have. Don't forget to check out our book fair in the library while you are here! A reminder that report cards will be sent home on Tuesday December 8th. An information letter was emailed to parents at the end of October about this.

Our school continues to focus on PBIS expectations. Teachers are discussing respect, readiness and safety in their classrooms and around the school. This has also been a focus on our daily announcements as we talk about how our behaviour outside of the school and in the community is a representation of our school. We know that Glenelm School strives to create a respecful and inclusive environment and we want our behaviour to reflect these good practices no matter where we are. Students are reminded about representing the school positively while on field trips, during community walks and in the general community outside of school hours.

Wishing you and your family a great November and looking forward to seeing you at the school for conferences!.
