

Dear Queenston Families,

Once again, Queenston School is hosting a Virtual Scholastic Book Fair from November 18 to November 26. Our Book Fair in March was a tremendous success and we have decided that it would be a good idea to offer an online book fair again in November.

Students and families will be able to purchase books online, but all orders will be shipped to Queenston School for distribution. Therefore, there will be no shipping fees!

Teachers' Wish list is still going to be an option. A separate link will be provided on November 18, along with the Virtual Book Fair link, which will list all the books the teacher has selected.

We hope you will enjoy the book selection that Scholastic Book Fairs offers, and remember that all purchases through the online store will earn the school 20% of the total in Book Fair Rewards.

Thank you for your ongoing support.

Helen Pirgalin,
Book Fair Chair
