ABOUT ME

Welcome to a new school year! This is my eleventh year at Champlain School, and I feel very fortunate to be part of such a wonderful school community. I believe that every student can learn, grow, and succeed, and that each child brings unique strengths, experiences, and perspectives to our classroom. I also believe that culture matters, our backgrounds, traditions, stories, and experiences help shape who we are and enrich our learning community. I look forward to getting to know your children, learning alongside them, and working together with you to make this a positive, meaningful, and memorable year.
