How does the Sipology Fundraiser work?

1. Complete the online Fundraiser Application with your Sipologist, or you can complete the application yourself. This will be submitted to Sipology for approval.
2. Once approved, a personalized fundraiser website will be provided for your organization, and we will review the program with you to make sure we're ready to go.
3. Just before the start date, we'll have a Seller Assembly where we can talk about the products and provide tips on selling them.
4. Then it's time to sell, sell, sell!
5. Once the closing date passes, we will contact you with the final totals raised and your profits. We will also confirm shipping if orders are shipping to a single location.
6. The order delivery will be approximately two weeks from the close date. If shipping to a single location, your Sipologist will make an appointment with the chairpersons and volunteers to sort and put orders together.

How long should our Fundraiser last?

A typical fundraiser will last two weeks. This gives the sellers enough time to share the Sipology fundraiser catalog but reduces your customers' thoughts of "ordering later." It's also important that your customers don't wait too long to receive their products.

How many products are available?

There are eight delicious flavors from Sipology's top selling product lines — and four pieces of teaware that pair perfectly with our teas. We offer a variety of products and flavors for your supporters, while keeping it as simple as possible for your sellers.

How will fundraising orders be shipped?

As a fundraising organization you have two options for shipping:

Option 1: Individually ship every order to your shoppers' addresses. There's a standard $5 shipping fee attached to each order at checkout.

Option 2: All orders will be shipped to a single location, at no cost. We will provide the order owners, and it will be the fundraising organization's responsibility to distribute the orders.
