The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA) (Section 41) states that public bodies must protect personal information against unauthorized access, use or disclosure.

This report is provided for the Board of Trustees ONLY. Trustees are reminded that they are obligated and responsible to protect personal information that has been entrusted to them.

Any person who wilfully discloses personal information in contravention of FIPPA is guilty of an offence and liable to a fine of not more than $50,000. An individual who believes that his or her personal information has been used or disclosed in violation of FIPPA may complain to the Manitoba Ombudsman or may choose to take legal action against any individual who releases the information or the Board.
